Dear Sir or Madam:

-- Please find enclosed a complimentary copy of our revised catalogue entitled Report Storage, Retrieval and Distribution System. The catalogue provides a detailed index of all reports, publications, articles and other material held by the Northern Economic Planning Branch in its Report Storage Centre.

To provide potential users of the Centre with a quick method to identify and retrieve those reports of interest to them, we have developed a new system of classifying our holdings by subject matter. Please refer to the introduction to the catalogue for more details.

We regret to advise that, with the exception of the materials listed in Section "F", the titles listed in this catalogue ARE NOT available for distribution as only one copy of each title is kept on our shelves. Moreover, due to the laws on copyright, we are not permitted to photocopy those titles in the Centre which are not available for distribution. However, the Data Management Division extends a welcome to all researchers and other users who wish to visit the Centre and make use of these titles within the Division's offices.

Section "F" of the catalogue lists the titles of reports prepared within the Northern Economic Planning Branch. These titles are available for distribution, upon request, without charge.

Yours sincerely,

Robert W. Reid,
A/Chief,
Data Management Division,
Northern Economic Planning Branch.

FOREWORD

This catalogue is a revised version of the Reports Storage and Retrieval System catalogue which was issued in 1975 to provide personnel of the Northern Economic Planning Branch and other interested users with a list of the titles of the publications held in the Report Storage Centre.

With the publication of a new catalogue, we have taken the opportunity to list new acquisitions, delete outdated material and develop a new system of classifying the titles of all the holdings in order that users of the Report Storage Centre can more readily search for and retrieve those titles in the subject area of interest to them.

The catalogue is made up of six sections. These are:

1. Section A - listing all titles of reports and studies dealing with a broad range of social and political matters;
2. Section B - listing all titles of a general economic character;
3. Section C - listing all titles that are identified with a specific industry sector;
4. Section D - listing legislative enactments and proposed legislation of the Parliament of Canada pertaining to the two northern territories;
5. Section E - listing the proceedings of Conferences dealing with social, political and economic activities in the two northern territories;
6. Section F - listing departmental publications originating with the Northern Economic Planning Branch and available for distribution upon request.

A coding system has been devised for Sections A, B and C to list all possible classifications and to indicate the physical location of the report or study in the Report Storage Centre. The code used is a thirteen digit number, the first four digits being reserved for Section A, the second four for Section B, and the final five for Section C. An oblique mark is used to segregate the three sets of digits. For example, the code number indicates that the report in question - K.J. Kea's The Political Economy of Northern Development - is listed once in Section A under the category "Constitutional Development" and twice in Section B under the category "Constitutional Development" and twice in Section B under the category "Development Planning" and "Economic Activity". The underlined set of digits shows that this report can be found on the shelves of the Report Storage Centre in Section B under "Development Planning". A schematic layout of the coding system used for these three sections follows this foreword.

We regret to advise that, with the exception of the materials listed in Section "F", the titles listed in this catalogue ARE NOT available for distribution as only one copy of each title is kept on our shelves. Moreover, due to the law on copyright, we are not permitted to photocopy those titles in the Centre which are not available for distribution. However, the Data Management Division extends a welcome to all researchers and other users who wish to visit the Centre and make use of these titles within the Division's offices.

Section "F" of the catalogue lists the titles of reports prepared within the Northern Economic Planning Branch. These titles are available for distribution, upon request, without charge.
